

Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner

Office of the Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner – Publication Scheme

The Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner (PCC) is committed to making available information to the public to enable them to hold her to account during her term of office.

The minimum information that the Office of the Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner (OSPCC) will publish as part of the PCC's transparency agenda is contained within this Publication Scheme.

The main statutory responsibilities placed upon the PCC in relation to the publishing of information derive from the following legislation:

- The Police Reform and Social Responsibility Act 2011.
- The Elected Local Policing Bodies (Specified Information) Order 2011.
- The Freedom of Information Act 2000.

The PCC also follows good practice by publishing information as recommended by central government to local authorities on data transparency.

The Police Reform and Social Responsibility Act 2011

Under the Police Reform and Social Responsibility Act 2011 the PCC is required to publish a Police & Crime Plan and an Annual report.

The Elected Local Policing Bodies (Specified Information) Order 2011

Section 11(1) and (2) of the Police Reform and Social Responsibility Act requires an elected local policing body to publish any information specified by the Secretary of State by Order (secondary legislation) and the time and manner of publication.

The Secretary of State has specified the information publication requirements on the PCC within the Elected Local Policing Bodies (Specified Information) Order 2011 and amendments (2012/2479) and (2013/1816).

The Freedom of Information Act 2000

The Freedom of Information Act gives a general right of access to all types of recorded information held by public authorities, sets out exemptions from that right and places several obligations on public authorities. Any person who makes a request to a public authority for information must be informed whether the public authority holds that information. Any person making a request must be supplied with that information unless an exemption applies.

Under the Freedom of Information Act, the PCC is required to adopt an approved Publication Scheme, setting out the information routinely made publicly available. The model scheme, on which this Publication Scheme is based, has been approved by the Information Commissioner and is reviewed from time to time. In adopting (or reviewing) this Publication Scheme, the PCC is required to have regard to the public interest by:

- allowing public access to information held.
- publishing the reasons for the decisions the PCC makes.

Further information about the Act can be viewed on the Information Commissioner's Office website through the following link: <https://ico.org.uk/>

This Publication Scheme commits an authority to make information available to the public as part of its normal business activities. The information covered is included in the classes of information mentioned below, where this information is held by the authority. Additional assistance is provided to the definition of these classes in sector specific guidance manuals issued by the Information Commissioner.

The Scheme commits an authority to:

- proactively publish or otherwise make available as a matter of routine, information, including environmental information, which is held by the authority and falls within the classifications below.
- specify the information which is held by the authority and falls within the classifications below.
- proactively publish or otherwise make available as a matter of routine, information in line with the statements contained within this Scheme.
- produce and publish the methods by which the specific information is made routinely available so that it can be easily identified and accessed by members of the public.
- review and update on a regular basis the information the authority makes available under this Scheme.
- produce a schedule of any fees charged for access to information which is made proactively available.
- make this publication Scheme available to the public.
- publish any dataset that has been requested and any updated version that is held by the OSPCC, in a re-usable form where practicable, unless the OSPCC is satisfied that it is not appropriate to publish it.

Classes of information

The information covered by the Publication Scheme is broken down into seven main classes of information:

- 1. Who we are and what we do – Organisational information, locations and contacts, constitutional and legal governance.
- 2. What we spend and how we spend it – Financial information relating to projected and actual income and expenditure, tendering, procurement and contracts.
- 3. What our priorities are and how we are doing – Strategy and performance information, plans, assessments, inspections and reviews.
- 4. How we make decisions – Policy proposals and decisions. Decision making processes, internal criteria and procedures, consultations.
- 5. Our lists and registers – Information held in registers required by law and other lists and registers relating to the functions of the authority.
- 6. The services we offer – Advice and guidance, booklets and leaflets, transactions and media releases. A description of the services offered.
- 7. Policies and procedures – Current written protocols for delivering our functions and responsibilities.

The classes of information will not generally include:

- Information the disclosure of which is prevented by law, or exempted under the Freedom of Information Act, or is otherwise properly considered to be protected from disclosure.
- Information in draft form.
- Information that is no longer readily available as it is contained in files that have been placed in archive storage or is difficult to access for similar reasons.

The method by which information published under this Publication Scheme will be made available

The authority will indicate clearly to the public what information is covered by this Scheme and how it can be obtained.

Where it is within the capability of a public authority, information will be provided on a website. Where it is impracticable to make information available on a website or when an individual does not wish to access the information by the website, a public authority will indicate how information can be obtained by other means and provide it by those means, for example as outlined below.

In exceptional circumstances some information may be available only by viewing it in person. Where this manner is specified, contact details will be provided. An appointment to view the information will be arranged within a reasonable timescale.

Information will be provided in the language in which it is held or in such other language that is legally required. When an authority is legally required to translate any information, it will do so.

Obligations under disability and discrimination legislation and any other legislation to provide information in other forms and formats will be adhered to when providing information in accordance with this Scheme.

Charges which may be made for information published under this Publication Scheme

The purpose of this Scheme is to make the maximum amount of information readily available at minimum inconvenience and cost to the public. Charges made by the authority for routinely published material will be justified and transparent and kept to a minimum.

Material which is published and accessed on the website will be provided free of charge. Charges may be made for information subject to a charging regime specified by Parliament.

Charges may be made, on occasion, for actual disbursements incurred such as:

- Photocopying.
- Postage and packaging.
- The costs directly incurred with viewing information.

Charges may also be made for information provided under this Scheme where they are legally authorised, they are in all the circumstances, including the general principles of the right of access to information held by public authorities, justified and are in accordance with a published schedule or schedules of fees which is readily available to the public.

If a charge is to be made, confirmation of the payment due will be given before the information is provided. Payment may be requested prior to provision of the information.

Written requests

Information held by a public authority that is not published under this Scheme can be requested in writing, when its provision will be considered in accordance with the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act.

General information about the role and responsibilities of the Police & Crime Commissioner

The Police Reform and Social Responsibility Act (2011) established the role of the PCC. The Act set provisions for the replacement of police authorities with directly elected PCCs, with the aim of improving police accountability by 'reconnecting' the public with policing.

The PCC was re-elected into post on 5 May 2016 to ensure that there is an efficient and effective police force for Sussex and to make sure that the Chief Constable and the Force are accountable to members of the public in carrying out their responsibilities and serving the communities of Sussex.

The PCC has several duties and responsibilities including:

- Setting the strategic direction for policing in Sussex.
- Publishing a Police & Crime Plan.
- Setting the budget and precept for policing in Sussex.
- Commissioning victims' support services.
- Holding the Chief Constable to account for delivering policing that is efficient, effective and responsive to the needs of the public as set out in the Police & Crime Plan.
- Appointing and, if necessary, dismissing the Chief Constable of Sussex Police.

It might help you to know that police operations are the responsibility of the Chief Constable, and some information may be held by Sussex Police, rather than the OSPCC.
